

HITEC UNIVERSITY TAXILA DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

GROUP MEMBERS:

ABDUL AHAD	22-CS-071
MUHAMMAD ZAIN ALI	22-CS-015
MUHAMMAD AFZAL	22-CS-035

SECTION: C

FINAL PRESENTATION

SUBMITTED TO:

Miss Sadia Choudhri

Scenario: A Collaborative Project Between Indian and Chinese Teams.

Setting: A virtual meeting between Afzal, a software developer from India, and Zain, a project coordinator from China, discussing strategies for effective intercultural communication within their project team.

Characters:

- Zain

- Afzal

Afzal: Good morning, Zain. Let's improve communication between our Indian and Chinese teams.

Zain: Morning, Afzal. How do we bridge our cultural differences

Afzal: Set clear agendas and encourage written feedback.

Zain: Agreed. Let's respect the Chinese preference for hierarchy.

Afzal: Involve everyone initially, then defer to key leaders.

Zain: Yes, maintaining harmony is crucial.

Afzal: Let's also be mindful of non-verbal cues.

Zain: Absolutely, cultural sensitivity is key.

Afzal: I'll propose cultural training sessions.

Zain: Good idea. Let's ensure ongoing support and mediation.

Afzal: Thanks, Zain. Together, we'll foster effective communication.

Zain: My pleasure, Afzal. Our collaboration will be stronger for it.